ALBERTA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE REPORT

Evidence of improved conditions in the agricultural industry of the province is contained in the various reports which go to make up the annual review of the operations of the Department of Agriculture, which were presented for the year 1924 to the Legislature by the Minister, Hon. George Hoadley, on Monday.

As has been previously reported, the total value of all agricultural production for the last year is, estimated at $217,447,888.23, as compared with $209,194,100 for 1923.

REPORT OF THE DEPUTY MINISTER

Deputy Minister, H. A. Craig in his report, comments in the prosperous conditions resultant from the higher prices, in spite of the lower yields. He comments on the fact that very little feeding of beef cattle was undertaken this season, but the indications were now that those who had undertaken this would be reasonably well rewarded. He comments particularly on the splendid growth of the dairy industry, but declares that the greatest weakness of the industry at present is the low average production of the dairy cows of the province. Improvement in this direction is to be effected most rapidly and economically by the use of pure-bred dairy sires on the present foundation stock.

MANY SILOS NOW

Great improvement, says the Deputy, has been made in the matter of winter feed for dairy cows. There are between 2,500 and 3,000 silos in the province, most of which have been erected within the past five years. This means a steady advance in the line of winter dairying.

BACON HOGS

There has not been the progress in the bacon hog industry that is desired, states Mr. Craig. The number of select hogs going to market has not materially increased during the year and is very low in comparison with the number of thick smooths and other grades. The principle of the bacon hog production is sound, declares Mr. Craig, but he urges the wisdom of a careful review of the whole question of method, offering the assistance and co-operation of the provincial department in bringing about any improvement in this direction.

ORIENTAL CATTLE TRADE

Mr. Craig reports upon his efforts to establish the cattle trade with Japan, and of the success of the government in getting the ocean rate per head reduced from $100 to $37.30 stating that it is hoped that the rate will be further reduced to $35 before long. Mr. Craig speaks of the several shipments of distinct possibility of developing a considerable trade in this direction, and also in other commodities.

REPORT ON GRASSHOPPER CAMPAIGN

Z. McInroy, Assistant Deputy Minister, gives a review of the grasshopper campaign in the years 1922, 1923 and 1924. After reviewing in detail the extensive operations to eliminate the pest in 1922 and 1923, the report shows that the total amount spent by the government during the five years from 1920 to 1924 inclusive was $845,413.02. Of this a total of $353,245.29 has been collected from municipalities, and $86,094.44 is still outstanding. There is material on hand valued at $60,000, so that the total net cost to the government for the five years to date has been $346,075.09. Returns from questionnaires sent out show that in the two years of 1922-1923 when the pest was so bad, the saving of crop affected was estimated at $22,000,000.

Mr. McInroy also reports on the removal of settlers from the dry areas. In 1923, 143 settlers with 217 cars of effects were moved to Alberta points and 101 settlers with 159 cars of effects moved into Saskatchewan. The cost to the Alberta government was $10,000 or approximately $41 per settler moved. Those moving out in 1923 to other Alberta points found locations mostly north of Calgary. In 1924, December, 417 settlers with 726 cars of effects were moved, many of them securing second locations in the irrigated districts or in other parts of Southern Alberta. Under the arrangements with respect to second homesteads 84 settlers have secured certificates for these.

LIVESTOCK CONDITIONS

In reporting on the cattle sales Mr. Carlyle, Livestock Commissioner, states that the price of pure-bred cattle has not improved a great deal during the year, but the prices of bulls of the beef breeds have been more satisfactory. The prices realized at the various bull sales were improved over 1923. There is a strong demand for dairy stock.

The sheep industry, says Mr. Carlyle, is in better shape than that of other classes of stock.

There has been a large increase in the production of hogs, but the production of bacon hogs, as has been stated, is disappointingly low.

EXPORT OF LIVESTOCK

The statistics with respect to the export of livestock from the province during the year show that 12,783 horses were exported and 195,207 cattle. Shipments between local points within the province totalled 5,618 horses (Continued on page three) and 106,456 cattle.

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY

The report of the Dairy Commissioner, Mr. Marker, reviews the very satisfactory state of the dairy industry of the province, and bears witness to the greatly improved quality of cream and butter as a result of the cream grading service initiated two years ago. It also dwells on the increased production and the port creamery butter. The exports of butter via the Panama continue to increase, the export by this route in 1923 being 4,000 packages of 56 lbs each, while in 1924 the shipments by this route three firms alone totalled 13,721 packages.

There are now 89 creameries operating compared with 75 in 1923. There were 12 cheese factories in operation.

The total creamery butter production was 21,500,000 lbs. compared with 17,800,000 lbs. in 1923 and the cheese production was 1,675,000 lbs. a slight decrease from the previous year. A total of 1,733,993 lbs. or about 8 per cent. of the total production, was marketed through the government's co-operative marketing service. This is the greatest amount marketed through this service since 1920.

POULTRY INDUSTRY

The value of poultry in Alberta is now $4,488,040, according to the report of the Poultry Commissioner, J. H. Hare. Alberta now stands second among all the provinces with reference to the number of poultry on farms, the average number in this province being 80, compared with Canada's average of 53.9.

Egg exports grew 33 per cent. during 1924. Three years ago Alberta was almost entirely an importing province with respect to eggs, but last year it exported more than 60,000 cases of eggs, or 133 carloads.

During the year the egg and poultry marketing service of the government had done of the successful years in its history, marketing a total of 17,860 cases of eggs, and 750,298 lbs. of poultry.

GAME COMMISSIONERS REPORT

The report of Game Commissioner Lawton shows that his department collected in 1924 $130,276.15 in revenue, which provided ed a surplus of $101,834.56 over the cost of operating the branch. Improved methods of collecting the fur tax brought $35,000 more than in 1923. A total of nearly 20,000 licenses and permits of various kinds were issued during the year.

FIELD CROPS AND SEED FAIR

The report of the Field Crops Commissioner, W. J. Stephen deals with field crop competitions, seed fair, operation of the seed plant, weed campaign and school fairs. Field crop and farm competitions were held at three points and plowing matches at four points.

Excellent results were accomplished during the year on weed eradication, 14 supervisors being in the field during the season.

In 1924 the provincial seed plant handled and marketed 67,903 bushels of pure seed grain, and the indications were that in the 1924-1925 season almost as much would be handled, in spite of the shortage of high-class seed production.

In 1924 there were 125 school fairs held, with approximately 185,000 entries, showing the keen interest taken in these fairs.

PROVINCIAL VETERINARY

The report of the Provincial Veterinary, Dr. Talbot, reviews the experimental work in connection with contagious abortion and sterility of cattle and goats. With respect to bovine tuberculosis,

Dr. Talbot refers to the work being done by the Research Council which was named by Hon. Mr. Hoadley some time ago in this connection, and which is now making up experiments with the Calmette culture.

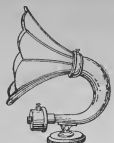

DEMONSTRATION FARMS

Donald Douglas, Director of Demonstration Farms, reports that crops on the various government farms this year were rather light, owing to drought conditions, but on one or two of the farms good yields were obtained. Alfalfa has been grown successfully on three of the farms in large acreages. Corn and sweet clover have also been grown successfully. The disposal of the Stony Plain and Athabasca farms led to the transference of the stock to the other farms. The farm herds have all done well during the year. The report gives details of the steer-feeding experiments.

RELIGION AND POLITICS

There is always a tendency in civilized society to sort things out, arrange them carefully in groups and categories, label them and then put them into pigeon holes for fear they should ever get mixed again.

For instance, society insists on keeping politics—or what it regards as politics—and religion—or what it conceives to be religion—in quite different pigeon-holes, and these as far apart as possible.

The man should declare that his religion and his politics are so inextricably entangled that he cannot separate them, or tell "the other from which," is regarded by the Politician—spelled with a capital—as unsound, because he would let his conscience have too much to say in matters where conscience ought to be left out, and by the extremely devout as irreverent and iconoclastic.

Both suffer from confusion of thought. They are using words to mean one thing which mean quite another. When they think of religion they think of Churches and Sects; when they think of politics they think of Parties.

Hence we hear it said: "Politics and religion are like oil and water; they won't mix; and they spoil each other," or "Don't don't degrade religion by dragging it into the political arena," or, "Parsons have no right to preach politics, let them stick to religion." In all these remarks politics and religion are plainly regarded as having little in common.

Well, we are supposed to take our religion from the New Testament, so let me put it into the witness-box, and see if it gives any evidence to support the contention that religion and politics should never be mentioned in the same breath, that religion is not good for the politician and politics distinctly bad for the parson.

Turn to that graphic, arresting, astonishing description of the Day of Judgement—Matt. xxv. 31-46. Nobody believes nowadays that it was intended to be taken literally in all its details, as a description of an actual event, just as a reporter would describe a hockey match. Its object is practical. It goes straight for one point, which it succeeds in making with amazing clearness. It seeks to give us, without a shadow of gainsaying, the Almighty's point of view.

Don't you regard it as strange that from first to last there is no mention, in the Judge's indictment or commendation, of anything which is commonly regarded as a religious exercise? There is no mention of this man's views or that man's views on questions which have rent the church into sects. Very strange! Evidently the Judgement Day is not a sort of glorified inquisition.

Yet it is, in a sense. You fed the hungry? You gave the stranger the "glad hand"? You visited the prisoner—although he may have been the fellow who stole your own silver spoons? You clothed the naked? You cared for the sick? You did WELL. You simply ignored these things? You did ILL. That seems to be the long and short of it.

From this summing up and verdict, we would almost conclude that we are to be judged by our politics rather than our religion. It would appear as though the Judge had an eye on sanitation, dwellings, prisons, workhouses, education, agriculture, poverty, disease, and would have something to say to those who begrudged a cent on the rates, even if it promised to ameliorate the condition of fellow-citizens not so well placed as themselves.

Judged on our politics? Monstrous!

Well, there is another way of looking at it. It is this. Nothing is alien to religion that is beneficial to man. Nothing that is contrary to religion is right in politics. In that case to be judged on one's politics is to be judged on one's religion—the religion which is summed up in the Golden Rule, to do to others as you would have others do to you. So, on this showing, religion and politics should not be placed in separate pigeon-holes, but in the same, a pigeon-hole docketed "Things that Matter."

That a minister should not preach the particular tenets of a with might and main seek to promulgate the great principles of justice and mercy and peace and brotherly love—both national and international—which are the only foundation stones upon which civilization can be built to endure, upon which both the individual and national life, and therefore, the whole realm of politics, can securely rest—seems to me nothing but his plain duty.

HAPPINESS

Yes, happiness is everywhere—if only we can find it!

In mansion and in cottage it is equally at home.

Of course, it needs a clever man to catch it, and to bind it, And keep it in his heart of hearts to cheer the hours of gloom.

It's such a mixture-meddley thing—chusive as a dreaming?

It's partly work and partly play; it's busy hours and rest.

And when we've given it away with all its plumage gleaming, It flies into our spirit-rooms and builds itself a nest.

EDGERTON ECHOES

The Edgerton Dramatic Club gave a very enjoyable presentation of the three act comedy 'Mrs Temple's Telegram,' to a packed hall, recently. The cast is purely local and is under the directorship of Mrs. Cleudenan. The Spornitz orchestra furnished music between acts and also for the well attended dance that followed.

Messrs Kennedy and Spornitz, and Mrs Cleudenan were Wainwright visitors last week and greatly enjoyed the new play written and directed by Mr. R. Spornitz, and played by the Wainwright Dramatic Club in the theatre on the evening of the 25th inst.

For results, use the Chronicle Want ad column.

We understand that the local club is to be playing in Wainwright on the 23rd April in 'Mrs Temple's Telegram,' Mr. Kennedy completed arrangements while in Wainwright.

Auctioneer Stewart, of Wainwright very successfully conducted the sale of household goods, belonging to Mrs. Wolff, on Saturday afternoon. Quite a large crowd attended and the bidding was brisk.

Here 20 cents for you. A dollar box of soda biscuits for 80c at Saker's. Why pay more.

fifty per cent, while there has been a decrease in the single demonstration-lecture. There was a total attendance of 11,790 at all short courses, and 945 at demonstration-lectures. Miss MacMillan states that there has been a great appreciation by the women's organizations of the work carried on by the branch.

PUBLICITY WORK

The report of the Publicity Commissioner, C. G. Groff, outlines the activities of the publicity, motion picture, statistics and exhibits branches during the year. Considerable general publicity was done chiefly in connection with Wembley, including the compiling of sets of motion pictures on Alberta for display in the old land, and the supply of exhibit material for the Alberta portion of the Canadian exhibit. Considerable advertising in British publications was also done during the exhibition. A total of 60,000 of the new Alberta handbook has been distributed, as well as a mass of other literature. In the educational work in connection with motion pictures, a total of 390 reels were in circulation for short course work among the farmers.

SCHOOLS OF AGRICULTURE

The report of the Olds School of Agriculture shows a total enrolment for the 1924-25 term of 191, the largest in its history. The report of the Chesholm School shows a total enrolment of 85. There is also a report from the Vermilion School of Agriculture in connection with the British boys in training there, numbering 60. This makes the total enrolment at the three schools of agriculture for the 1924-25 term to be 336.

An extensive report of the operations of the college of agriculture is also submitted by Dean Howes.

SOIL SURVEY

With the report of the Department of Agriculture was also tabled the report of Dr. Wyatt, of the faculty of Agriculture, on the soil survey of the Macleod district.

VARIETIES OF WHEAT

(Experimental Farm Note)

The average tests in the tests of wheat for the past six years on the Scott Station are as follows: Kitchener 25.1, bushels per acre, Red Bobs 23.6, Red Fife 23.4, Garnet 19.3 and Ruby 17.6. A five year average comparing Marquis 15 and Kitchener shows Kitchener to have yielded four bushels more per acre. The number of days required to mature were as follows: Kitchener 131, Red Bobs 119, Red Fife 133, Marquis 129, Garnet 110 and Ruby 112. A variety receiving some favour in Manitoba is Kota but under the conditions found at Scott this variety stands too low in the yield to be recommended.
